

Previously Approved Special Provisions

Previously Approved Special Provisions have been reviewed and approved for use by the Construction & Technology Support Area. These documents are to be used whenever possible to reduce the variation in descriptions of work, construction, measurement, and payment for similar items of work.

These documents are available as either Adobe Acrobat format (pdf) or Microsoft Word rich text format (rtf). Special Provisions in Acrobat format are intended to be used without revision and no further review and approval is required. Special Provisions in rich text format may be revised (and in some instances must be revised) to include project specific details and must be submitted to C&T for re-approval.

If it is necessary to prepare a project specific special provision these documents will provide a starting point and show the approved format, organization and active voice writing style.

If you do not find the special provision you need among the provisions posted here, please contact the Specifications Office at Construction & Technology Support Area for assistance. Submit all questions and special provisions requiring approval, to the following e-mail address: specialprovision@michigan.gov .
